

Chaplain Transferred

Comdr. Matthew J. Bouterse II, chaplain of Sanford Naval Air Station since its recommissioning last Spring, has received orders of transfer to Venice, Italy, it was announced yesterday.

His replacement, Lt. John Danielson, is expected to arrive tomorrow from a tour of duty in the Pacific with the military sea transport service.

Chaplain Bouterse, recently elevated to full commander, says he and his family—he has two children of pre-school age and two in school — are studying the Italian language in order to fit in better at his new station.

Comdr. Bouterse received his high school education in Mount Dora and he and his family now have their home in DeLand. They will sail on the Gen. Hodges out of New York on Feb. 8.

Lt. Danielson's wife and son will continue to live in Connecticut until he can find a home at Sanford.

Rotarians Conduct 'Probe'

Sanford Rotarians began their own probe into the scandals in public office yesterday through a public forum meeting in which each member got a chance to give his views on "causes."

George Touhy acted as moderator and promised next week's meeting will furnish the "cure."

The forum met with ready response by members yesterday and many opinions on the whys and wherefores of basketball and mink coat scandals.

Gordon Dean said the trouble all starts in the home. "Too much child psychology and not enough of the good old fashioned punishment of wrongdoing."

Frank Evans blamed government corruption on the spoils system which doles out jobs regardless of ability.

Atty. G. W. Spencer lamented "too much government," with the
